

PRESS RELEASE

Date 17th February 2017

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

New Solutions Appointment at Clearview Intelligence

Clearview Intelligence is pleased to welcome Peter Cattell back into the team, joining us as Senior Solutions Manager.

Peter has enjoyed a long and successful career in the ITS solutions industry, learning his trade at Siemens before moving to Clearview and then onto project delivery, product management and sales roles at Colas, Dynniq and most recently at Rennicks Ltd.

Peter has extensive knowledge of creating and delivering innovative ITS solutions for clients across the UK, as well as a strong network of contacts across the supply chain. In his new role, Peter will assume responsibility for Clearview clients across the Midlands and Central UK area.

Commenting on the addition to the Clearview team, Andy Salotti, Head of Solutions said “Peter is held in high regard within the industry, so to be able to welcome back someone of Peter’s calibre and experience into the team will not only provide fantastic benefits for existing and new customers, but will also add to the wealth and depth of knowledge that the Solutions team can draw upon to continue to create industry leading intelligence solutions to road safety, traffic monitoring and parking challenges.”
